WHO SHOULD ATTEND?
- K-12 teachers specializing in economics, business, math, consumer economics, consumer and family sciences, social studies, history, and reading.
- Counselors and educators specializing in career/life skills who have students/clients in need of financial literacy training.
- Financial education providers working with youth or limited resource audiences through non-profit organizations, community groups, government agencies, etc.

DESCRIPTION:
More than ever consumers need to have a basic understanding of money management so they are able to make informed decisions in today’s complex market place. Financing Your Future is a complete personal finance program on DVD. The program consists of five videos that cover topics such as setting financial goals, investing in one's own human capital, developing a banking relationship, understanding credit and debt, and creating a budget. Each video is complemented with three standards-based lesson plans that educators can use with their students and clients to reinforce the concepts demonstrated in the videos. Conference participants will receive FREE the Financing Your Future DVD curriculum, which includes the videos, lesson plans, glossary, and test bank. Also, a guest speaker from the financial industry will discuss key economic and financial issues, both nationally and globally, that are likely to be at the forefront for consumers in the coming year.

All economic and financial concepts covered during this training are correlated to the Illinois Learning Standards for Social Science, Mathematics, and English Language Arts. Funding for this training conference is made possible by the National Council on Economic Education (NCEE) with support from the Citi Foundation, the Illinois Center for International Business Education and Research (Illinois CIBER), and University of Illinois Extension.
